Specialist shampoos

Epigenetics is the most important scientific breakthrough in decades in the fight against hair loss and alopecia.

What is EPIGENETIC?

It is the science that studies the mechanisms which activate or deactivate the genes without altering its DNA sequence.

The epigenetic shampoos by Nuggela & Sulé help trigger those genes responsible in hair growth. These shampoos have influence in some conditions we once thought were irreversible, like hair loss.

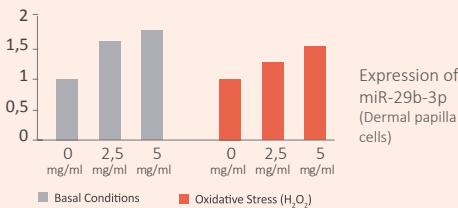

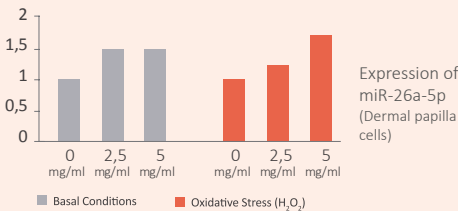

How does it work?

During the hair growth phase (Anagen phase), the number of cells in the dermal papilla increases, stimulating hair growth.

OFF As soon as the genes responsible for the natural cycle of the hair synthesise GSK-3 protein, (Glycogen synthase kinase -3), its activity is switched off. This type of protein is accountable for the hair loss phase (Catagen phase).

ON How can we activate it? Epigenetic shampoos by Nuggela & Sulé increase the expression of Micro-RNA (miR-26a-5p and miR-29b-3p) which inhibit the synthesis of the GSK-3 protein while maintaining the hair growth phase (anagen phase) as well as benefitting the cellular proliferation of the hair follicle in order to create new hair.
